Driving Guide

This document outlines the requirements and responsibilities for drivers operating through Uni Go. It is intended to support safe, lawful, and responsible transportation within your community.

By registering as a driver on Uni Go, you agree to follow these policies and requirements. Uni Go may update these policies at any time to maintain safety, compliance, and reliability for the campus community.

Uni Go is a student ridesharing software platform that enables student drivers to independently offer transportation to other students. Uni Go does not operate as a transportation provider or employer. Drivers using Uni Go assume full responsibility for their driving activity as independent drivers using the platform.

Getting Started

Uni Go connects campus riders with independent drivers who choose to offer transportation within their community.

As a driver, you help maintain a safe and dependable experience. The following guidelines are designed to help you operate responsibly and follow applicable rules and policies.

How Driving on Uni Go Works

Drivers use Uni Go to offer rides, accept requests, and transport student riders. All drivers:

- Independently choose which rides to provide.
- Independently set their own pricing for each ride they create.
- Agree to the budget set for rides created by other students.
- Retain the full amount earned from rider payments.
- Must operate in compliance with traffic laws, insurance requirements, and school policies.

Uni Go provides a digital platform for arranging rides, but does not control how rides are performed, or how vehicles are operated. Uni Go does not handle funds paid by riders.
